Some Refreshment.

An admiral, during the maneuvers at Newport, told a story at a garden party.

"The navy is as abstemious from ethical reasons," he began, "as Old Stinger was from miserliness."

"Old Stinger was entertaining a boyhood friend one evening at his shore cottage. After a couple of hours of dry talk the old fellow said, genially:

"Would you like some refreshment—a cooling draft, say—George?"

"Why, yes, I don't care if I do," said George, and he passed his hand across his mouth and brightened up wonderfully.

"Good!" said Old Stinger. "I'll just open this window. There's a fine sea breeze blowing."

How She Looked.

"I lost a dollar at the matinee this afternoon," remarked the fleshy woman to her husband, "and I never was so angry in my life."

"How'd it happen?" asked the man.

"I dropped it in the aisle," she answered shortly, "and I looked for it—that's all I could do."

"Did you look good?" persisted the head of the house.

"Did I look good?" shrieked the woman, really angry now. "I looked as good as a fat woman crawling around on all fours ever does."—Collier's Weekly.

The Ages of Man.

Smuggs—Say, Juggs, who are those three gentlemen standing at the conservatory entrance?

Juggs—Why, they represent three generations. The ruddy old man with the fine head of hair, Buggs—the thin-haired one next to him is his son, and the dissipated fellow with the bald head is the grandson.—National Monthly.

Logical.

"Why are you so violently opposed to woman suffrage?"

"Women haven't got the intellect to grapple with problems of state. Why, even we men don't know what we're talking about half the time when we're discussing politics."

When a man becomes thoroughly contented he has outlived his usefulness.

The game of lacrosse is of purely Red Indian origin.

Turners Make Good Soldiers.

"More than 15,000 German turners have been decorated with the Iron Cross since the world war was declared," writes Dr. Hugo Ruehl, secretary of the Deutsche Turnerschaft. In a letter to George Brosius, veteran Milwaukee turnmaster.

In commenting upon the ability of turners as soldiers, Professor Brosius says: "The exceptional training that turners are given in Germany makes them most efficient as soldiers. There are more than 800,000 serving the kaiser. In their gymnastic training, long marches have always played an important part."

He Went With the Coat.

"Plaze, sir," said an Irishman to a farmer going to market one day, "would yez be obligeing as to take me great coat here to B—wid yez?"

"Yes," said the farmer; "but how will you get it again?"

"Oh, that's mighty aisy, so it is," said Pat; "for shure I'll remain inside uv it."

Not So Lucky.

"Scadds is a lucky chap. He's got a country estate on the Hudson, a hunting camp in the Adirondacks and a bugalow at the seashore."

"Yes, and his wife refuses to go to any of them. She insists that he find some new place to spend the summer."

Counter Irritation.

"Does that man wake you up at six o'clock in the morning, running the lawn mower?"

"Not any more. I get up at five and ask him to lend it to me for an hour."

The earliest record of any life insurance policy bears the date of June 15, 1583.

Most people can stand poverty better than prosperity—because they are used to it.

Mollified.

This really happened in New York the other day:

Displeased Parent—Molly, I find you have been buying three pairs of gloves without my permission. Why did you do it?

Miss Molly (aged twelve)—Why, daddy, I was obliged to have some gloves; I hadn't a pair to wear!

Displeased Parent—It was very wrong of you to buy the gloves without asking either your mother or me about it.

Miss Molly—Well, never mind, daddy dear; they won't cost anything. I had them charged!—New York Evening Post.

Moral Discipline.

"Why do you insist on going away every summer?" asked one woman.

"For the sake of moral discipline," replied the other. "I like to get my husband where he has to eat what is set before him, without uttering a word of complaint."

Her Bright Outlook.

"How are you going to spend the summer?"

"Pa's rented a cottage again, and I suppose I'll spend it in the kitchen cooking fish for our city friends to eat, the way I did last year."—Detroit Free Press.

Would Hurt Business.

"Are you still selling those illuminated signs reading, 'Nix on war talk'?"

"No. I got discouraged and quit."

"What happened?"

"I tried to sell one to a saloon-keeper."

The Cure.

June—Aren't you just crazy about flats?"

Ann—Not since I married one.

There Are Others.

"Mars has high aims these hot times."

"Yes, and so has Mercury."

SANTA FE ASKS LOWER VALUATION AND RATE.

Assessment at Present Stands at $115-677.48 Per 31,228 Acres Owned by the Road.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Santa Fe, N. M.—W. C. Reid, as solicitor for the Santa Fe in New Mexico, has entered an appeal with the State Tax Commission, urging the reduction of assessment on the Santa Fe's coal lands in San Juan county. The assessment at present stands at $115,677.48 for the 31,228 acres of coal lands in the county owned by the road.

The assessment is in the name of the Santa Fe Pacific Railroad Company, the concern holding title to the San Juan county coal reserves of the Santa Fe railroad. The appeal will be taken up with the commission at its next meeting.

The San Juan assessor placed a value of $15 an acre on 1,640 acres of the Santa Fe land, and of $3 on the remaining 29,588.16 acres. In his appeal Capt. Reid states that the land is far removed from railroads and markets, and that at present its only value is as grazing land. He places a value of only $1 an acre on the bulk of the land and declares that the value of the 1,640 acres assessed at $15 an acre is not to exceed 10 per cent greater than that of the rest of the land, and should, therefore, be assessed at not more than $1.10 an acre.

The valuations placed on the coal lands this year are the same as assessed last year. An appeal to the State Board of Equalization in 1914 was denied by that body.

Two police officers, one of whom, William Santistezan, is a deputy sheriff, attempted to arrest him. Wood fired at the officers, sending a bullet through Santistezan's right arm, following which he started to run. The officers fired at him, hitting him four times, twice in the shoulder, in the abdomen and in the left leg. Wood died almost immediately. Wood's companions did not mix in the row and were not hurt.

DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER

Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.

To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.

Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K C and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K C is really a blend of two baking powders, one acting as soon as moisture is added, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K C Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.

K C Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

NOT MODERN KIND OF BEAU

Girl of Today is Looking for Something Different From This All-Too-Bashful "Chump."

The dear girls were comparing notes on subjects of more or less importance.

"Your beau seems rather bashful," said Stella.

"Bashful? Is no name for it."

"Why don't you encourage him?" queried her friend.

"I have tried," answered Mabel, "but the attempt was a measly failure. Only last night I sat all alone on the sofa, and he perched up in a chair as far away as he could get. I asked him if he didn't think it strange that the length of a man's arm was the same as the distance around a woman's waist, and what do you think he did?"

"Just what any sensible man would have done—tried it, I suppose?"

"Not any, thank you. He asked if I could find a piece of string, so we could measure and see if it was a fact. Isn't he the limit?"

A Cook's Tour.

"I saw your touring car speeding toward the station this morning. Who was the young lady in it?"

"That was our cook."

"What! And you sent her to the station in your big machine?"

"Surest thing you know. We didn't want to take any chances on her missing the eight o'clock train to town. So long, old man. I've got to go and see a doctor about my indigestion."

Love's Dilemma.

"They are both in love with you, Fantine. Which one do you prefer?"

"I can't decide to save my life," said the summer girl. "One has a gorgeous motorboat and the other has a stunning motorboat."

Your objection to special privilege probably is based on the fact that you are not permitted to enjoy it.

There are various methods by which trouble may be avoided. One of them is to sell your bulldog.

BUILT A MONUMENT The Best Sort in the World.

"A monument built by and from Postum," is the way an Illinois man describes himself. He says: "For years I was a coffee drinker until at last I became a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, headaches and indigestion."

"The different kinds of medicine I tried did not cure me, and finally some one told me to leave off coffee and take up Postum. I was fortunate in having the Postum made strictly according to directions on the pkg., so that from the start I liked it."

"Gradually my condition changed. The old troubles disappeared and I began to feel well again. My appetite became good and I could digest food. Now I am restored to strength and health, can sleep sound all night and awake with a fresh and rested body."

"I am really a monument built by Postum, for I was a physical wreck, distressed in body and mind, and am now a strong, healthy man. I know exactly what made the change; it was leaving off coffee and using Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 90c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

She Understood.

"I took my wife out to the ball game yesterday," said Fansome.

"I know you suffered," said Parkway.

"Indeed I did! The home team gave a rotten exhibition of ball playing and the caustic comments my wife made kept me squirming until the last man was out."

Know Him?

"What do you think of my graduation essay?" asked the young man.

"Fine!" replied his father. "Only I'm afraid a lot of people are going to be bashful about offering plain wages to a man whose intellect is so much above the average."—Washington Star.
